Selectmen accept draft site plan review ordinance

The Bethel Board of Selectmen Monday night accepted the draft site plan review ordinance and declared it ready for public hearing. The vote to accept it was 5-1. (Selectman Peter Haines voted against; Selectman Victor Coolidge was absent.)

There will be two public hearings—Wednesday, July 15 at the Telstar lecture hall and Wednesday, July 22 at the West Bethel Union Church—prior to an Aug. 23 special town meeting, which will decide the fate of the town's first attempt in two decades to regulate growth.

The draft of the ordinance was basically the same one presented to them two weeks ago by the Planning Board, except for a few minor corrections that both boards agreed to last week and a final change in a setback requirement. The draft specifies that the ordinance would apply only to new multi-family, commercial and industrial developments and new uses. It further stipulates that it will not replace the existing subdivision ordinance, nor will it apply to existing buildings or existing uses.

It then goes on to specify what densities, setbacks, open space, parking etc. will be permitted or required in any new construction or new use. (For a full review of the ordinance, see last week's Citizen. Copies of the draft ordinance will be available at the town office.)

A lively discussion took place at the selectmen's meeting regarding the proposed setback requirement for multi-family developments. The draft submitted by the Planning Board specified a setback of 50 feet in rural areas (that is, areas without town sewer). Selectmen Arthur Gilbert and Pat Doon argued that this was too much and would eliminate half the property if one tried

MT. ABRAM'S NEW MARKETING DIRECTOR Dave Gilpatrick stands in front of one of the ski area's well-manicured slopes.

More condos going up at Mt. Abram skiway

Three dozen townhouse condominium units are being constructed at Mt. Abram, and more are planned. The construction is part of Mt. Abram Ski Slopes' Birch Road Country Homes subdivision, which was approved before Greenwood Town Meeting imposed a one-year moratorium on multi-unit construction, last March.

Sixteen one- and two-bedroom units were built in the subdivision last season—all of which sold before they were completed. When the current building phase is completed, next winter, the subdivision will be complete, with a total of 60 units.

Next on the drawing board is a trailside condominium project, which has many Mt. Abram ski families excited, so much so that there is already a list of potential buyers.

The trailside project will be built in conjunction with a new chairlift and new trails, about 2,000 feet to the right of the current trail system.

The new area will be served by a new full-facility base lodge, a new parking area, a new triple chair, and three new trails. The trails will be rated for beginner and intermediates and are expected to serve many of the beginning, intermediate skiers who now use the existing double chair. This should reduce the lift lines at that chair, according to skiway officials.

Mt. Abram hires marketing director

Mt. Abram Ski Slopes, in Locke Mills, recently hired Dave Gilpatrick, of that town, as its new marketing director. He will have the concurrent position of manager of the Howe Hill Management Corp., a subsidiary of Mt. Abram, set up to manage the skiway's condominium rentals.

Mr. Gilpatrick founded Western Maine Graphics, in Oxford, in 1971, selling it 4½ years ago. He then joined Paris Manufacturing Co. as marketing director.

He is an avid skier and has been on the ski patrol at Mt. Abram since 1968.

He lives on Howe Hill with his wife Harriet, who teaches second grade at Howe Elementary School, in Norway. They have two grown daughters.

Mr. Abram spokeswoman Jean Anderson, in announcing Mr. Gilpatrick's appointment, said, "Dave is taking over marketing [from me] and giving it the time it needs." Ms. Anderson said she has become increasingly busy with the growing real estate side of the skiway's business.

Bankruptcy court orders liquidation of Locke Mills Marketplace

The U.S. bankruptcy court, in Portland, has ordered that the assets of John Pragg, doing business as Locke Mills Marketplace, be liquidated.

Assistant U.S. Trustee Paulette Parker said Kim Vandermolen has been appointed trustee to carry out the liquidation of assets.

Ms. Parker said the liquidation would be carried out "as quickly as possible."

She said there was not much to liquidate locally, since the only real assets—that is, the building and land—would go to the secured creditors: the Bethel Savings Bank and the Small Business Administration.

In addition to the secured creditors there are dozens of unsecured creditors who are owed upwards of $80,000 by Mr. Pragg. The message for these creditors was bleak. "It does not look good at the moment," said Ms. Parker.

Ms. Parker said Mr. Pragg also claimed assets in California and Asia and these would take quite some time to determine, let alone liquidate.

Spanish youngsters arrive this week

The Spanish-American Youth Exchange becomes a reality this week when the 20 Spanish youths, aged 12-14 years, along with their five adult chaperones, arrive in Bethel late Friday night. They are flying into Montreal from Spain, arriving at five o'clock Friday afternoon where they will be greeted by a SAD #44 bus and driven back to Bethel for probable arrival between 10 and 11 p.m.

Riding on the bus to greet them will be Bob and Dollie Greaney of Andover who spend a lot of time in Milas and who originally conceived the idea of this exchange, along with other coordinators and hosts. Once in Bethel, the youngsters will be matched up with their waiting host families at the Telstar parking lot.

The group from the tiny village of Milas, Spain, will then have a day and a half to rest and get acquainted with their hosts before a welcome reception/cookout on Sunday at Stony Brook Recreation in Hanover courtesy of proprietors Bruce and Shirley Powell.

This will kick off two weeks of entertaining and educational activities planned for the group highlighted by Mollycoddett Day, an August trip, a Value Guides baseball game, school, farm and industrial tours, an overnight campout, sports, and much more. The group is scheduled to leave on July 25.

The Bethel Rotary Club, as sponsoring organization, wishes to thank all those people who have worked so hard to make this unique experience possible. In addition, many thanks to the businesses who have contributed to this project. Their

Voters turn thumbs down on purchase of gravel pit

Bethel voters at a special town meeting last Wednesday night at the Telstar Regional High School auditorium overwhelmingly voted against spending $40,000 for a potential gravel pit.

The proposal was to purchase a five-acre tract owned by Shirley Gilbert along the Androscoggin River, in West Bethel, and use it as a gravel pit. The purchase was to include $5,000 down and the remainder spread over seven years, at 9½ percent interest.

The approximately 40 voters who showed up for the special town meeting were of the same mind as the Budget Committee, which had recommended against the expenditure. The voters overwhelmingly voted against spending money for a town gravel pit.

Town Manager Rodney Lynch commented afterwards: "We'll save money in the short run but not in the long run."

generosity is greatly appreciated. The town's support will be needed to complete the exchange by sending a delegation from this area to Milas, Spain, during the summer of 1988. The Bethel Rotary Club hopes that everyone will have a chance to meet these very special ambassadors of good will.

Lakes association meeting Saturday

The Community Lakes Association will hold an organizational meeting Saturday, beginning at 10 a.m., in the Woodstock town hall.

The group, which began drumming up interest in a lakes association last year, hopes to formalize the association at this meeting.

Organizer Merle Ring said he expects this meeting to produce a formal name for the group, plus elect officers, plus decide on dues or other income.

The purpose of the association would be to act as a watchdog over the lakes and ponds of the Greenwood-Woodstock area. The group plans to monitor water quality in order to keep local waters clean. The group would also lobby the Legislature as needed regarding water quality issues.

Mr. Ring said membership in the group is not limited to those who live on a lake or pond. Nor is it limited to property owners in Greenwood and Woodstock. "Anybody interested in the environment is welcome," Mr. Ring said.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Since I wanted to support Sally Rollinson's new Upson Players, and I knew director Pamela Bailey Powers when she and her family belonged to the Milton church where I served as organist, I went to Saturday's production of "Independence" but without any real expectation of enjoying it much. And I wound up having a ball! So did the thirty-plus in the audience who tried very hard to bring back the performers for a well-deserved curtain call.

The only way to give an idea of this American potpourri is to list some of its contents: The Revolutionary War hymn "Chester," Robert Frost's "The Road Not Taken," poems by Whitman, Dickinson, and Robert Lowell, "Shenandoah," "Home on the Range," bits of Ben Franklin and Tom Paine, guitar playing, and several very funny sketches. It was a glorious mish-mash of Americana skillfully mixing humorous, serious, patriotic, and popular in a way that nicely suggested the melting pot that is American culture.

The performance took place in a colorful tent pitched behind the Hammons House using the woods bordering the garden as a scenic backdrop. It was all very rustic and informal, yet the performances showed a high level of professionalism, and the fun the actors were having communicated itself to the audience.

Three of the regular Upson Players (Joy Chesna, Michael Potenza, and Tina Young) were joined on this occasion by Bethel's Mac Davis. Each player had the opportunity to sing, play and/or recite, but the chief impression was that of a smoothly functioning ensemble rather than a group of individual performers.

This was the first of four picnic theater productions scheduled for the weekends of July, and there are also children's programs on Saturday mornings and Sunday afternoons. If the Upson Players can maintain the high level they achieved with their opening show, it could prove to be a memorable season. You should plan to include a visit to the new theater on Broad Street in your summer weekend plans.

Ned Hastings

To the Editor:

My family attended "U.S.A. Let's Go!" a children's theater production by the Upson Playhouse at The Hammons House in Bethel. The children were encouraged to get up on stage and take part in the show. We thoroughly enjoyed this play, and I encourage more families to attend. I am very pleased that theater is available to us right close to home, and we plan to take advantage of future productions by the Upson Playhouse.

Oxford Pomona meets

Oxford Pomona met with Franklin Grange on June 30 with a 6:30 supper served to 33 members before the meeting.

Cards were signed for seven members who are ill. Foodless food sale was carried out by Lili Swallow, CWA chairman. Collected so far, $85.50. The scholarship fund was being built up on donations on each one's age the month their birthday occurs. Everyone is real gracious about this help. There is now have $233.85 in the bank.

The Grange Fair to be held at Harrison was discussed. July 25 is the date. A ham supper will be served in charge of Louis Marcotte from 5 to 5:30. Each Grange was urged to have a table of goods on sale. Entertainment at 7:30.

A resolution on pure water was presented and was referred to the Resolutions Committee. It was accepted and voted to send the same to State Grange.

The officers for the ensuing year are as follows: Master, Lewis Bisbee; Overseer, Louis Marcotte; Lecturer, Shirley Foster; Steward, Winfield Bennett; Assistant Steward, Randy Jack; Lady Assistant Steward, Linda Jack; Chaplain, Marion Bennett; Treasurer, Anna Wordworth; Secretary, Gail Butterfield; Gatekeeper, Lewis Wordworth; Ceres, Marguerite Marcotte; Pomona, Myrtle Bisbee; Flora, Bertha Kilgore; Executive Committee, Lettie Brooks (three years).

The August meeting was cancelled. Installation will be held at the Sept. 1 meeting.

Program: welcome, Richard Felt, Master of Franklin Grange; response, Gail Butterfield; the thought for the day closed the program.

Reflections on the 4th

Now that the 4th of July fireworks have fizzled, the bass drums have been silenced and the holiday hoopla has ended, it's important to consider for a moment the meaning of the Independence Day we have just celebrated.

This bicentennial year of our Constitution is a particularly good time for reflection. Two hundred years ago our forefathers, representatives of an infant nation, gathered to construct a framework for its operation. Armed with pen, ink, good sense and incredible foresight, they dug an impressive and sturdy foundation for the government structure we have laid upon it in succeeding years.

Their Constitution has worked very well in the centuries since. Neither civil war nor world war, nor assassination, nor abuse of power has managed to erode the basic document carefully crafted so long ago.

A look at their Preamble—the one we have all memorized that begins "We the People"—with its goals for the new nation remind us of the simple and basic freedoms for which our forefathers fought and for which we should be thankful today.

One of the goals—to establish justice—has particular application as we in the Senate consider the nomination of Robert Bork to sit on the Supreme Court. If confirmed, Bork will become one of only about 100 men and one woman who have served on the high court, and policed the actions of the other two branches of government. The fact that we have the opportunity to judge his qualifications is, by itself, a commentary on the Constitution's strength. There are few nations where rulers share the power to make judicial appointments.

Passing on judges' qualifications is just one of the checks and balances written into the Constitution by our insightful forebears.

Another check is being played out in public this spring and summer in the Iran-Contra hearings. Government running wild in the shadows of the White House basement has become government exposed to the harsh brightness of television lights.

Constitutional questions abound as Congressional probes pick their way through the deceptions created by Lt. Col. Oliver North and the private government he oversaw. Our Constitution provided for civilian leadership, yet here a Marine Corps lieutenant colonel and a Navy admiral, John Poindexter, appearing to be directing U.S. foreign policy. What's more, this private government was deliberately flouting the will of Congress, which has specified that no federal assistance was to go to the Contra rebels in Nicaragua and that the U.S. could not sell arms to Iran. These entrepreneurs appeared to be digging a tunnel under Congress because they new they could not have their way had they marched through our front door.

However, the fact that this information is now coming to light is an indication of the strength of our Constitution. As we reflect on the 4th of July in this bicentennial year (of the Constitution), it's clear that our system of checks and balances is in fine working order. And that alone is cause for celebration.

'Mother West Wind' and 'Independence' July 11-12 at Upson Playhouse

The Upson Playhouse continues its summer season July 11-12 with Children's Tent Theater performances of Mother West Wind Tales and Picnic Play performances which begin Saturday picnic time at 1 p.m./show time, 1:30 p.m. and Sunday picnic time, 12:30 p.m./show time 1 p.m. Due to unforeseen personal circumstances, The Upson Playhouse regrets to announce Picnic Play guest artist Ballerina Denise Pons of the Boston Ballet will be unable to perform this weekend. Instead a repeat performance of Independence the Reader's Theater piece performed as the Playhouse's opening performance will be offered. Ticket subscribers and individuals who reserved tickets should contact the Playhouse for a refund for this performance.

The Mother West Wind Tales Children's Tent Theater performances are drawn from Thornton Burgess' beloved stories, and will focus on the competition of Granny and Reddy Fox with Old Man Coyote. Boxer Bear's first trip into the woods, and how Prickly Porky and Old Man Coyote became friends. The Children's Tent Theater is a participatory theater for young children, with emphasis on the characters rather than the stories, leaving the children room to participate in play rather than story making. Using music, poetry and pantomime, the actors encourage children from the audience to act out their own ideas, providing a delightful theatrical experience for everyone. These plays are for young children up to fourth or fifth grade level. Children's Tent Theater performances are Saturdays at 10 a.m. and Sundays at 3 p.m. Tickets are $2.50 each.

Independence a Reader's Theater piece, features the wit and wisdom of American authors and folk songs. The work is arranged by artistic director Pamela Bailey Powers, and the acting company has developed the improvisational sequences that enhance such segments as Robert Frost's "The Road Not Taken," excerpts from Ben Franklin and Cotton Mather's diaries, and many others. Musical numbers include "Oh, Shenandoah," "Swing Low Sweet Chariot," and more.

Picnic Play audience members are invited to bring picnics and blankets so that they may enjoy the site's lovely lawns and gardens prior to each performance. Tickets are $5 each and may be obtained at Edelweiss Country Store, Bethel, or by calling The Hammons House, 824-3170.

The Upson Playhouse wishes to thank Outward Bound for its generous invitation to the Upson Players. Any community member wishing to host one or more of the Upson Players Tuesday-Saturday between the hours of 5-7 p.m., should contact Sally Rollinson at 824-3170.

Anyone wishing to sponsor one or more of the Upson's tickets to "Children's Tent Theater" performances should contact Sally.

The Upson Playhouse received partial funding from Mahosue/Gould Arts Council and The Maine Commission for the Arts through LPL plus APL.

From Augusta

An open letter to the residents of Senate District #15:

The first regular session of the 113th Legislature adjourned on June 30. During the six month session we accomplished a great deal. As chairman of the Joint Standing Committee in Taxation, I reviewed many proposals designed to reduce the property tax and finally enacted over $12 million in tax reductions. Included in this package were:

• An Act to provide Relief from Property Taxes through Extension of the Elderly Tax and Rent Refund Circuit Breaker to Both Elderly and Nonelderly Individuals. This bill allows individuals who meet the guidelines to apply to the state for a "return" on their property taxes or their rent.

• An Act to Return to the Maine Taxpayers the Additional Tax Payments Associated with Conformity to the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986 for Tax Year 1987. This bill reduces taxes in 1987 by giving Maine taxpayers a credit for each exemption they claim in 1987 and removing the low income from the tax rolls.

• Part Two Budget. Included in the Part Two budget are block grants to municipalities to reimburse them for teacher and administrator certification requirements. Each municipality will receive $100 per teacher and $200 per administrator. This will reduce the need to rely on the property tax to cover these costs.

In addition, we passed laws to protect our ground water through the clean up of solid waste dumps and underground storage tanks. We passed L.D. 886 which establishes a Comprehensive Ground Water Protection Plan, defines legal rights to water and establishes guidelines, regulations, and state programs for assuring that ground water is protected. We also passed L.D. 1440 and L.D. 1763 which expand the authority of the Board of Underground Storage Tank Installers to regulate the installation and removal of tanks and create the Underground Oil Storage Facility Replacement Fund. The fund will issue loans to individuals and organizations who must repair, remove, or replace leaking underground storage tanks.

L.D. 1862, An Act to Ensure Safe Management, Recycling and Disposal of Solid Waste and to Reorganize the Solid Waste Law, responds to the current closing, or future closing, of some of Maine's municipal landfills. The law encourages the development of recycling and other innovative techniques, establishes a fund for enforcement and monitoring activities, creates a state assistance program for municipalities, and creates a special program for cleaning up and closing solid waste landfills in Maine which pose an actual or potential hazard. The state will also design and implement a program for promoting and planning recycling efforts.

Continuing our commitment to improving educational opportunities for Maine's young people, and responding to recent studies which show that many of Maine's

Local woodsmen to compete Mollycoddet Day

The Bethel Rotary Club has decided to return the traditional Mollycoddet Day lumberjack competition to local competitors. The contests are being set-up so that the average woodsman will be able to compete without purchasing any special equipment. Everyday chainsaws and log rollers will be during the competition this year, scheduled for Bethel Common on Saturday, July 18.

There will be five events in this year's contest: Tree Fell, Tree Cut, Pulp Throw, Log Rolling, and Straight Cut. The prizes will be $50 for first in each event, $25 for second, and $10 for third. The overall Lumberjack of the Year, determined on a point basis, will receive $100. The events are again sponsored in part by Federal Distributors of Lewiston. All interested woodsmen should pick up an entry form (no entry fee) at either Kendall Insurance, Maine Line Products, or Prim's. Encourage your neighbor to compete!

Shirley Gilbert retires

Chadwick-BaRoss Inc., with general offices in Westbrook, recently announced the retirement of Shirley Gilbert, of West Bethel, at a party held in his honor in Portland.

He had served as a field representative for the company in many areas in northern New England for over 21 years.

students do not go to college, we passed the following bills:

• An Act to Create the Post-Secondary Enrollment Options Act. This new program will allow high school students who qualify to take courses at Maine's colleges and universities and to cover the cost of post-secondary work within the school budget.

• An Act to Implement Project ASPIRE for High School Students in the State. This bill responds to the growing number of high school graduates who do not seek higher education—only 38 percent of Maine's high school graduates go to college. This bill provides funding for a pilot project, administered by the University of Maine, which will allow high school students to take college level courses within their own schools.

• An Act to Enhance Higher Educational Opportunities. This bill establishes an advance payment program for college tuition. Parents will pay into the Advance Tuition Payment Fund and when their child reaches college age, he or she will be eligible for four paid years at one of Maine's institutes of higher education.

These are just a few of the programs which this legislature put into place. I urge you to contact me at 289-1500 if you have questions about these bills or if you have questions and help with problems during the off-session.

Swimming lessons for West Paris start July 13

Swimming lessons sponsored by the town of West Paris will begin on Monday, July 13. These lessons are available for children from age 6 (or entering first grade in September) and up. Dave Everett of Hanover will be the instructor, assisted by Wendy Emerson. Dave has previously taught swimming at Camp Hinds, the Boy Scout camp in Raymond, and Wendy is a member of the OHHS swim team, and is state butterfly champion.

The bus will leave Agnes Gray School in West Paris at 8:30 a.m. sharp, and will return there between 12 and 12:30. Children who live along Rte. 219 will be picked up beside their homes if they are outside waiting.

Permission slips can be picked up at Whitman's Store, West Paris General Store, Trap Corner Store, Emery's Building Materials, Oxford Bank in West Paris, or at the West Paris Town Office. These slips should be returned with the student on the first day of lessons. It is not necessary to register before the lessons begin. The fee for the three week program is $1 per child.

Parents are needed to assist with supervision of the students while they wait for the turn in the water. If you can possibly squeeze out a morning, or 15 mornings to help, call one of the numbers listed below. If each parent took their turn, the program will be well covered.

If you have any questions about the program, call Gwen Ellengwood at the town office at 674-2701, or Mary Emery at 674-2866.

Open house at Last Crank Telephone Museum Sat., July 11

There will be an open house, with free admission, at the Last Crank Telephone Museum on Rumford Avenue in Bryant Pond on Saturday, July 11, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The museum features the last magneto telephone on the American telephone network. Working crank phones, telephone company histories, old time music, concessions, souvenirs, etc., are included in the activities. The operating switchboard feed a nostalgia of many for the old days when the switchboard was the heartbeat of the whole town.

The event is sponsored by the Independent Telephone Pioneers Association, a non-profit, tax-exempt organization whose principal donations benefit the Ronald McDonald House, St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital and the Bryant Pond museum. The museum is open by appointment only during the remainder of the year.

For more information call Mrs. Judy Jamison, 836-9911.

Nurses race for Mollycoddet Day

The teams have had a meeting and rules have been established so all is nearly in readiness for the nurses race on Mollycoddet Day.

Those who have entered the race are the BEARS, Tri-Town Rescue, and the Bethel Area Health Center, and hopes are high that REMS from Rumford will join us this year.

The race course will start at the head of Main Street and proceed down Broad Street. There will be four stations to stop at along the way.

The first station will be to treat a head injury, that is, to wrap the patient's head in gauze. The second station will be for taking blood pressures and recording it and a pulse on a judge's record sheet. The third station is a bed bath and an impartial judge will be observing. The fourth and last station before the finish line is to treat the patient's injured hand and wrap it in gauze, then on to the finish line where a judge will time each participant.

It will be a lot of fun. Any other organization that cares to participate can do so by calling Mariel Whitney at 824-2193.

family skiing." Thus, beginners will be able to use a chairlift instead of the T-bar at Dwayne's Retreat.

Mr. Gilpatrick pointed out that the new trail system will connect with the existing trail system through Easy Rider, so that skiers taking the new 3,600-foot triple chair can ski down either trail system, as can those going up on the existing double.

The new trails will be served by snowmaking, Mr. Gilpatrick said, in order to keep up Mt. Abram's reputation of paying careful attention to grooming. "If you come here you can be sure the snow is worth skiing," he said.

As for the trailside condominiums, projections are for 15 or 20 to be constructed for the 1988-89 season. The moratorium on building should be lifted next March, Mr. Abram officials have been told by the town's planning board, leaving plenty of time to have plans approved for the new project.

The condos will be mostly two-bedroom units, expandable to three-bedroom, according to Mr. Abram's Jean Anton.

New this coming season at the skiway will be an outdoor ticket kiosk in front of the present base lodge. This will cut down on some of the traffic inside the lodge, Ms. Anton said.

Selectmen accept draft site plan

to build a multi-family development on one acre. This, they argued, would mean that more land would have to be used for building a multi-family project, and the extra land needed would be taken from productive agricultural or forestry land.

However, Selectmen Peter Haines and Arlan Jodrey took the view that broad setbacks were needed in multi-family developments so that neighbors would not be disturbed by the sound of lots of children playing or lots of skiers partying. Mr. Haines said he would like to see even larger setbacks. He pointed out that a developer doing a multi-family project would, in any case, have more than an acre to work with; thus he wouldn't be losing half his land to setbacks.

The Planning Board's Ginger Kelly, who, along with Planning Board members Donna Remington and Reggie Brown, was sitting in on the meeting, said she was in favor of the 50-foot setbacks and hoped it would spur cluster development in multi-family projects. This would cluster the units in one portion of the property leaving the remainder of the property as open space.

Mrs. Remington, who was on the subcommittee that put together the first draft (given to the Planning Board), said she favored the 50-foot setback. But Mr. Brown—like Mrs. Remington just recently appointed to the Planning Board—said he would like to see a 30-foot setback. He noted that the side setback requirement for an industrial project was only 25 feet.

Other discussions pointed out that the setback for hotels and motels was 40 feet and questioned whether the setback for a multi-family project should be greater. The selectmen finally agreed to amend the 50-foot requirement to 40 feet. Mr. Haines voted against the compromise, saying he still believed 50 feet was the proper course to take.

Mr. Jodrey commented, "This is just meant to be a start, and if it was anything more than a start, we couldn't get it through."

In other business, the board accepted the draft of a letter of credit for $325,000 on the part of The Bethel Inn. The line of credit would be made available to the town to draw upon should The Inn not complete public works incidental to providing sewer and water for the Fairway Condominium project.

THE NEW CONSTRUCTION AT BIRCH ROAD COUNTRY HOMES is at the right, adjacent to last season's completed units. When all the new construction is completed, next year, the project will have 60 units.

CLEARING HAS BEGUN FOR A SECOND BASE LODGE AT Mt. Abram Ski Slopes, in Locke Mills. The new base lodge will serve a new chairlift to be constructed 2,000 feet to the right of the present chair. The new chair will service new trails, which will also connect with existing trails.

Playground planned at Newry town office

The Newry Recreation Committee plans to install playground equipment on the grounds of the municipal building. The playground will include swings, sandboxes and other equipment.

The playground will necessitate that the town purchase additional liability insurance, which will be done. The additional insurance will be paid for from the Recreation Fund account, the selectmen said.

At yesterday's selectmen meeting, Willard Wight reported that the work on the Newry-Andover and Newry-Rumford town lines has been completed. The lines have been swapped, painted and marking posts have been set. Mr. Wight brought in a map of the Newry-Andover line and a report on the bearing of the line. The map has not yet been received for the Newry-Rumford line.

It was voted to move the rock with the plaque commemorating Ralph Frost, who was killed in action in France on Nov. 11, 1918, the day the Armistice was signed ending World War I. Also on the rock is a plaque with the names of Newry citizens who served in World War II. The rock is now in front of the Bear River Grange Hall and will be moved to the municipal building lot. The Eagle Rock will also be moved to this lot.

The town granted a permit to the Sunday River Skiway Corp. to bury a pipe beside the skiway access road and the Sunday River Road. This will be for the new sewage treatment plant, and will carry the treated water from the plant to the Androscoggin River. A special permit will be granted for the pipe to cross the skiway access road.

The assessors completed the evaluation work yesterday. The material has been sent to the computer service—

BARRACKS AUXILIARY #2943

The Barracks Auxiliary #2943 met at the Riverside Picnic Area on Wednesday, July 1. A potluck picnic was enjoyed. Ice cream and birthday cake were served in honor of the Myra Stevens' birthday. Maud Danforth was unable to attend. Cards were sent to her congratulating her on her 90th birthday on July 4.

Three members were reported on the sick list and cards were sent. Reports were given on the state convention at the University of Maine in Farmington. Plans were made for a yard sale to be held in August. The mystery package was won by Myra Stevens.

Another picnic will be held at the same place Aug. 5, weather permitting.

By LOUISE LORING

Remember the old saying, "Let me live in a house by the side of the road and be a friend to man..." To have a friend the first lesson to be learned is that you must be one. Friends have the power to change another friend's mental attitude for better or worse.

Therefore, there are certain principles one must conform to in order to have friends.

Number 1: Mind your manners! The first rule of getting along with another relationship of any kind is courtesy. Warmness includes thoughtfulness. Remember it's the little things you do or say that can make or break a friendship.

Number 2: Open your heart to people. Realize that some deep emotional subjects are well left alone and undue comments may hurt another, so bite your tongue. One's worst enemy is one's own tongue.

Number 3: Never listen to negative, destructive comments about other people. These poisonous darts can infect your own mind.

Number 4: Remember that neither happiness or friendships can be bought. Neither one comes in bottles, boxes or bags. Both have to be earned.

Number 5: Respect other people's privacy. If confided in by another, honor the confidence keep things to yourself.

Number 6: Be forgiving. What seems to you the terrible conduct of another, must be forgiven. Give people breaks. An old Indian proverb tells us, "Don't judge another man unless you have walked at least five miles in his moccasins."

Number 7: Never give advice, or even constructive criticism unless asked for. This can ignite a situation that spreads out of control like a grass fire.

Number 8: Never keep score. "I've done this and that for so and so and what have they done for me?" Friendship is not a board game like Monopoly.

Number 9: Practice the Golden Rule, "I will do unto others as I would have done unto me."

Number 10: There are three levels of friendship: A-You are my friend so you must have only me for a friend—this is a selfish friendship and wouldn't work; B-You are my friend and I need you—this is also very shallow; C-I am your friend therefore you are my friend—this is an understanding friendship of the highest level. This friendship endures. So let yourself be a true friend don't jeopardize the friends that you have then you won't be lonely, your future will be a lot of new happiness.

God Bless and Peace.

A lot of people are enjoying their summer vacations from their work places. Many attended the carnival and fireworks display in Gorham, N.H.

IRONWORKER RICHARD DUKA, of Hanover, poses with portions of the wrought iron fence from Andover's Woodlawn Cemetery. The 19th-century fence was mangled (notice portion at left) by a car that went off the road, ripping up most of the fence. Mr. Duka is taking the ornamentation off the bent rods and attaching them to new rods (as at right). The fence should be as good as new when he is finished with it. The driver's car insurance company is paying for the work, which was ordered by Andover officials.

Dr. and Mrs. Leland Burrill and grandson Lee of Parola Valley, Calif. (near San Francisco), have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Swan. After visiting friends and relatives in the Fairfield area they will return to East Andover to complete their vacation on July 15th. Dr. Burrill and Mrs. Swan were high school classmates. All attended an alumni gathering in Farmington on June 27.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Thurston and sons, Danny, Jon and Kurt, spent the weekend in Arundel visiting his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Thurston and family.

Ray Learned is a patient at Stephens Memorial Hospital in Norway.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Falkenham and Miss Joy Thurston attended the open house in honor of Drs. Usha and Om Wadhwa at Dixfield on Saturday, June 27. The Doctors Wadhwa are moving to Herkimer, N.Y., to set up a practice in internal medicine.

Mrs. Rodrick Sidelinger, during the Nashville Now program on Friday night, June 26, in the call-in segment of the program where people from Canada and U.S.A. may call, she called and talked to Lulu Roman.

Rev. Mariotte Churchill of the First Congregational Church of Andover, had as her sermon topic on Sunday, June 28, "The Head of the Church." The opening hymn was "Praise to the Lord." Hymn of devotion was "Jesus The Very Thought," and the hymn of dedication, "O Jesus I Have Promised."

Mrs. Eva Bodwell and Allen spent the weekend in Kittery visiting her daughter Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hilton and family. Her grandson returned with them for a visit.

Miss Emily Gammon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Gammon, East Andover Road, graduated on June 8 from Katherine Gibbs School in Boston, Mass., where she completed a two year secretarial course.

Postmaster James Desjardins will be on vacation for a week starting July 3. Mrs. Susie Swasey will be substituting at the Andover Post Office.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McBride and daughters of Florida are visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Sidelinger a few days.

I hope everyone enjoyed a safe and sane July 4th weekend both at home and away, and also hope the weather was suitable. It is a funny sometimes.

Joseph Kolinski has returned from Connecticut and he has a new car. Enjoy it, Joe!

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anderson, Sr., of Burlington, Mass., came to their trailer at Bridgton for the rainy weekend and called on brother-in-law, Joe and Eveline Vatcher.

Callers at Lawrence's: Stevie Millett, Richard and Sharon Felt, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Downing, Joe Vatcher, Bobbie Hsley, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Card, Mr. and Mrs. "Root" Lawrence visited Mr. and Mrs. Richard Felt.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Vatcher went to Saugus, Mass., Monday for the funeral of Mrs. Fannie Vatcher, Joe's Mother. The truck was broke down so they borrowed a car and believe you me it was hot riding. They got to Bethel to the doctor just 45 minutes late for appointment. They didn't attend the gathering at the home of a nephew, Kenneth Vatcher, as the asthma shots were more important.

Doris Lawrence wanted to test the steel ship implant that she had on Aug. 1, 1986 so she went strawberrying four times on Stearns' Hill. It's OK.

Stowell's Wood Products at Bryant Pond is on vacation for two weeks, so our neighbor is testing the old fish rod and reel.

Bobby Hsley and family returned to Rome, N.Y. Tuesday morning.

discussed were donations given to and lent to the society. A couple of old Maine history books were donated by the Andover Elementary School and Comsat denoted the guest books from their visitors building. A telephone switchboard and stool was loaned by Frankie Emerson of Andover, Mass. Mrs. Alya Parsons has some other donations. The flower show will be held Aug. 1 on Old Home Day. The theme will be Summer Time. Any member and interested friends are needed to help out at the flower show. Present were: president, Beverly Swan; secretary, Anne Fox; and treasurer, Dorothy Campbell; Alice Bartlett and Marguerite Emerson.

Hope everyone had a safe and Happy July 4th celebration.

Thought for the Day

People who can fix the blame are a dime a dozen. The ones who get ahead are the ones who can fix the trouble.

—O. A. Battista

Calvary Congregational Church

Nightly Vacation Bible School had their closing program at 4:30 p.m. on the 26th followed by a supper for everyone.

We had a good attendance of 65 for most of the week. Prizes were awarded to those learning the most scripture verses. First prize went to Jack Drakus who received a Bible plus $10; second, Linda Salway, $10 plus a plaque; third, Becky Shumons, cup with a scripture verse on it; fourth, Phillip Bailey, a plaque. Mrs. Grover was in charge of N.V.B.S.; Edna White on the piano; and Ellen Greeke taught the songs. Many thanks to everyone, teachers, crafts and helpers, and those in charge of refreshments, etc.

Last Sunday, our guest speaker, Randall Rickard, was in charge of the services for the day. Meditation, Psalms 42:1-5, "Thirsting for God's Word." During the worship service, Brother Rickard used as a text, II Corinthians 5:1-14, "Reconciliation to God." Randy and Alma sang "Channels Only" as special music for the morning service.

Communion was observed the last Sunday of the month.

Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, the topic of "Evangelism." A good time was enjoyed.

Bethel Historical Society to sponsor architectural survey of Franklin County

Dr. Stanley R. Howe, director of the Bethel Historical Society, announced this week that the society has received a grant to conduct an intensive survey of the historic architecture of Franklin County. Funded with the assistance of the Maine Historic Preservation Commission through a U.S. Department of the Interior, National Park Service grant, this project will utilize the society's extensive collections relating to the history of western Maine.

The project will involve a year of research and field work by its director, Randall H. Bennett, whose nearly 600 page book, Oxford County, Maine: A Guide to Its Historic Architecture, was published earlier this year as a result of a similar survey of Oxford County. A graduate of the University of Maine at Farmington and a summer resident of Franklin County for nearly 30 years, Bennett has written or edited numerous books, many of which deal with Maine history or New England architecture. Currently curator of collections at the Bethel Historical Society, Bennett has conducted studies of western Maine families, and is presently compiling detailed genealogies of three families for publication.

With the final goal of a published inventory, the Franklin County Historic Resource Survey will attempt to document the historic architecture of this western Maine area. During the next few weeks, Franklin County historical societies, as well as other organizations and individuals, will be notified of the project. In the meantime, those with questions or comments about this survey should address them to Randall H. Bennett, Project Director, Franklin County Historic Resource Survey, Dr. Moses Mason House, P.O. Box 12, Bethel, Maine 04217.

Founded in 1966, the Bethel Historical Society is devoted to the preservation and interpretation of the history of western Maine. Its collections include a wide variety of sources relating to the history of Oxford and Franklin counties and the White Mountains. Currently over 700 members strong, the society operates a period house museum, the Dr. Moses Mason House (1813), and carries on extensive educational and publications programs.

High Street

By VIVA WHITMAN

Another week has rolled by and now July is here, showing us that summer is here and maybe some hot weather. Who knows? It hasn't been too humid. I don't mind the heat so much if there isn't too much humidity.

The rain that we have had has given the gardens a good drink of water and then the sun shining helps to make things grow. One can see vegetables grow from day to day or at least that is the way it seems. The peas are in bloom and podding good so have hopes for them. Russell got some polyester stuff for covering the beets to keep the leaf miners off and they are pushing the light covering up in the air so we know they are growing day by day. Hopefully, we will have beet greens to eat and freeze before long. Have had some lettuce fresh from the garden and it tasted real good. Radishes have grown and some got too big but I'm not one to eat many and Russell isn't either.

We have a new little person in the neighborhood as Kenny and Chris have a new son. He is a bouncer and a cutie. A pretty little boy named Seth. Can't remember the middle name I heard but will say he is a baby to be proud of.

Had hoped to take Kariann to see the dance recital on Wednesday of last week but was sick so didn't get to take her till Thursday night. Peggy went with us and the show was real cute. I love to watch the children dance and perform for the grown ups to enjoy and enjoy we did. Kariann got out into the aisle and tried to copy some of them and that added to the amusement. She was good but it was hard for me to see as I am so short and the lady in front of me was tall and broad but did enjoy what I saw.

Peggy had to go see Dr. Mason in Bethel during the day Friday but we went to Norway to do a few errands and get groceries in the morning. Didn't realize that Kariann was running a temperature until she got up from her nap. She felt all on fire so we battled a fever for about five days. Took her to see Dr. Whitney and he told me there was almost an epidemic of virus going around where the children had red gums, run a high fever and some of them broke out in a rash. She did all of it before she was done. She still hasn't gotten her appetite back but hope she will, soon.

Sunday night proved to be a busy night as I was up in the night giving Kariann a bath to cool her off. She felt all on fire. Tired me all out but she is better now. Peggy had company on Sunday. She met a friend, Dorothy Hume, at the Country Way Restaurant for lunch and then they came up to Peggy's to visit. Called in here to say "Hello" for just a moment before she left.

She had business to attend to in town on Monday and we rode along. Kariann had a little nap that way and needed it badly. Peggy and Russell went to Norway to get material she needed to put her new storage shed on that was to be delivered on Tuesday. She wanted more blocks under it and needed some other things. It took most of the afternoon to accomplish what she needed to get done. Guess Peggy felt ambitious and mowed the lawn in the evening. We were afraid we might get some showers and can't mow grass when it is wet so she decided to get it done and know it was done before any rain came.

Tuesday arrived and so did Peggy's storage shed. Ralph Bonney who lives in the Yaggar Neighborhood had made it for her and he brings it in pieces that have been already put together so doesn't

Stoneham Rescue holding open house July 19

Stoneham Rescue Service will hold an open house at the Rescue Barn on the corner of Route 5 and Butters' Hill Road in East Stoneham on Sunday, July 19.

The program includes a presentation on the use of trained police dogs at 2:30 p.m. with Trooper Steve Pepin of the Maine State Police and his dog Magnum. The officer and his dog will demonstrate a number of the K-9 team's skills. Northern Cumberland Memorial Hospital's health education van will be present for tours and free blood pressure and diabetes screenings. An exhibit of rescue equipment and demonstrations of their use will also be given.

take too long to put it up. It was up and they left before lunch time. Now all Peggy has to do is use it and of course, paint it to hold it against the weather. I made a casserole to take to Pomona Grange meeting at Bryant Pond. None of us were planning to go so took it down to Lettie and Carl Brooks for them to take with them.

I have gotten my exercise this week as Kariann has had me outside alot. She loves to swing and I have to push her. We walk around the garden to see how things are growing and then back for another swing, either on her swing, or on Courtney's swing or one of the tire swings that are around here. She doesn't mind having a ride on each of them and usually does before we are through.

Got ambitious on Wednesday morning and made a casserole for ourselves as I knew it would be late when we got back from going to see my doctor in North Bridgton. I was right so was glad I had something prepared for lunch. After lunch Peggy went to Bethel to visit her youngest daughter, Loretta Merrill. She had received a tape of her granddaughters wedding she wanted to see and as we don't have a V.C.R. she went up there to use theirs and see the tape. She said it was real good and they enjoyed it very much.

After supper Kariann and I went to visit an old friend of mine in the Porter neighborhood. I always enjoy going to see Mary and Reno Korhonen so paid them a visit. Kariann and I had a good visit with them.

Just talked with Mary Lovejoy and she is into the berry business in good shape. The berries we got at the Chipman Farm were delicious but wouldn't mind having a quart or two of the fresh ones to eat now. I love strawberries any time, and best when they are freshly picked. Wish I could pick berries as I used to when I was a child or even when I was older and used to go pick wild ones. It was one of my favorite times. However, times do change with age and so do we so I do the best I can and enjoyed the few wild berries I found in our yard this year. Got enough for one strawberry shortcake and it was delicious. Didn't need any sugar to make it taste real yummy. Those who have arthritis should do without sugar all they can as it helps. Russell and I have found that our so will pass on the news. Hope everyone had a safe and happy Fourth of July weekend without any accidents to loved ones. It is the best prayer that any of us can make as far as I am concerned. So take care till next time.

Newry

By AMY HANSCOM

The Ladies Circle held a very successful lawn and bake sale at the home of Sylvia Wight June 27-28. One hundred seventy dollars was realized, benefitting the Newry Community Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Verne Glover, Hollis, were at their camp June 27-30. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cummings, Bethel, visited them Monday.

While they were at their camp, Mr. and Mrs. Verne Glover called on Amy and Roger Hanscom. Kystal Straight, Allison and Brent Black, Ricky Pecor, Vermont, Jim and Jay Swan and Lois Sills, Zephyr, Fla., were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Swan.

Cheryl Drinkwine, Cheryl Glover, Hollis, and Bradley Parslow, Dayton, were at the Glover camp for the weekend. Mr. and Mrs. John Greer Sr., Haddam, and Gretchen, California, visited her mother, Helen Morton, last week.

Gretchen Wight, Thelma Lowery, Betsy Clark and Karlene Bachelder were in Berlin, N.H., bowling July 1. Gretchen Wight was high scorer in single and triple string.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bachelder, Conyers, Ga., arrived July 3, to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Bachelder, for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. James Paine and son, Mechanic Falls, were at their camp lot for the weekend.

THE EDEN RIDGE TOWNHOUSES are moving towards completion. The 52-unit subdivision is on a ridge overlooking Vernon Street, in Bethel. The view above is of the back side of the first series of units.

So. Woodstock

By OLIVE R. DAVIS

News is scarce this week. July 1 has come in and summer is in full swing. Many are traveling around, some going to the beach and in general all are trying to keep comfortable.

June 30, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brooks and Olive Davis were in Bryant Pond to the Oxford Pomona where they helped on the supper that was served by the Franklin Grange.

Thursday, June 25, I was in North Bridgton to see the doctor, then went to Lower Ridge to see my sister, Lillian Harmon, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Andrews.

Friday forenoon Bertha Benoit and I went to Stearns Hill where we picked strawberries.

Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brooks and I went to Norway to the celebration of Norway, Paris, and Oxford Granges of their 113th anniversaries.

A helicopter has been flying low overhead this week. We wonder why. It is unusual around here.

Parents are invited to attend.

Seal belt law for children

On Tuesday morning, June 9, at a Seal Belt Awards Ceremony, Governor McKernan announced that he just came from signing a bill into law that will require children 12 and under to be buckled up.

The new law will become effective 90 after the late-June adjournment of the legislature. A six month period will begin in late September during which time only a warning will be given to those who are not buckling up their children.

The staff at the Bethel Health Center encourages everyone to support and promote compliance before and after the new safety belt law takes effect. The health center hopes all parents will also buckle themselves up in addition to their children.

By COLISTA MORGAN

Do you recall that Mark Twain said, "One of the brightest gems in the New England weather is the dazzling uncertainty of it."

How true it has been this week in June. One morning it was lovely at an early hour. The water drops sparkled upon the grass and clung in crystal jewels upon the trees. A cobweb became a marvel of shimmering beauty. Only the tops of the trees were touched with sunlight. The hemlocks were dark and the lichens soft underfoot.

At the farm buttercups, daisies, and clover adorn the fields. A short distance away a bird sang, stopped, then started again, as if reassured that I, the intruder, meant no harm.

All the dust was gone and the colors were cleansed and brightened. A beautiful day! Listen again not with your ears but with imagination. You may hear the whisper of water being converted into chlorophyll, roots expanding with the power of dynamite because the landscape is a vast system constantly in action.

Bugs, bugs, and more bugs. They too were in action for it's their season. Yuck! Who needs them?

I suppose we all do for if we didn't have them we would not have apples, peaches and some other foods that we eat.

Insects pollinate plants. They help make food for us. Do you like honey? Hooray for the bee. The honey-bee is the only one that makes food for man. Only the female stings. There are many others; ladybugs, walking sticks, wasps, grasshoppers, crickets, ants, spiders, fireflies and many more.

Another day, the rain came; the daisies bent their soggy heads into the grass their petals hanging like wet fringes.

The wild assaulted us in force, and it was cold. It was a gray day! Great rounding masses of clouds went drifting across the sky, casting dark shadows. A scud dipped down covering the top of Oveset Mountain and draping a gray pall on its timbered slope.

Edith Deegan, South Woodstock, spent Saturday afternoon and evening with Irene Wilson.

Mindy Wilson is in her second week of training in Portland for work in the Maine Savings Bank.

Bob and Mona Lowe and Leah Deegan attended the Legion Convention in Augusta.

Bob and Mona were in Lewiston, Wednesday.

Bob, Alan, and Mona's mother, Frances Farnum, picked strawberries in Denmark this week.

Cys Clark and friend from Litchfield, Conn., spent a few days with the Moores before taking Leslie, Nathan, and Jennie back with them to spend a week.

Leah Deegan and Earl Colby attended the flag-burning ceremony at the Jackson-Silver Post on the Fourth.

The frost jewels frozen into the dome of heaven were not visible as night came. This kind of weather continued throughout the week. Was it because the farmers started cutting their hay? I know two who were finishing getting their hay at nine o'clock one night. They had beaten the rain and the bales were safe in the barn. . . long day!

This has been a quiet week. No time to mow lawns or do other outdoor work because of the rain.

I visited my brother, Ernest in Poland one day. He came to get me; we had lunch at the Cole Farm then he brought me home.

On Thursday evening I went with my neighbors, Milton and Eleanor Inman to the Children's Dance Theater at Oxford Hills High School Auditorium. They presented "Cinderella" which was delightful.

Mr. and Mrs. John Betts have been gone a week and Mr. Betts' brother has been at their home.

Robert, Jeri and Jenny Holt of Windsor and David and Mary Holt of Standish were at the Holt farm on Sunday.

AN ACCIDENT LAST FRIDAY NIGHT required the use of Bethel's new "Jaws of Life" apparatus—the first time the device has had to be used. Bethel firefighters were called to the scene of the 8 p.m. accident on Broad Street to help extricate a young boy who was trapped in the car. They got him out quickly, and he was whisked to the hospital where he was treated and released. "It's a little different than just practicing," Fire Chief Bob Davis said of the inaugural real-life use of the "Jaws of Life." The crash victim, from Rumford, had been alone in the car off Paradise Road while his father worked on the Bethel Inn's new access road. Somehow he started the car and put it in gear and zoomed down the hill, narrowly missing a number of trees, until the car came to rest between a tree and the Moran barn, on Church Street. "He was some lucky," Chief Davis commented. He noted it was also lucky that no bicyclists or NTL'ers got in the way of the out-of-control car.

Brownie Troop 155 takes part in camporee

Brownie Girl Scout Troop 155 of Bethel participated in the Telstar Association Camporee on June 26-27. On Friday, June 26, the girls made ice cream, set up camp, met Mrs. Stevens' angora rabbit, learned about spinning and cooked their dinner. They slept over Friday night despite the rain and returned home Saturday morning.

Brownie Girl Scouts participating were Lydia and Martha Grover, Marcy LaVallee, Tabatha Mason, Jennifer Stevens, Jenny Moore, Mindy Cooley, Kellie Paradis, Cindy Wheeler, Jennie and Nancy Edwards, Angela Baker, Betsey Kuzik, Julie Ludlam, Kate Nickerson, Teri Chadbourne. Adults helping were Nancy and Danny Grover, Althea Stevens, Beth LaVallee and Leslie Cooley.

BIRDWATCHING: Sheila Miller's cat "Baker"—formerly in residence at Miller's Bakery, in Bethel, is an avid bird-watcher in his new domicile, in Kimball Park. Here he watches a finch, who seems quite unconcerned as he stands in a window ledge feeder. Of course there's a screen between the bird and the cat.

THIS WEEK AT THE Moses Mason House

Last Thursday evening approximately 50 persons ventured to the Middle Intervale Meeting House, Bethel's oldest surviving meeting house (1816), to attend the July monthly meeting of the Bethel Historical Society. A picnic on the Common in front of the meeting house preceded the meeting.

Speaker for the evening was Society Director Stanley R. Howe who made a presentation on Dr. Nathaniel Tuckerman True (1812-1887) as a local historian. Dr. Howe began his remarks by describing the role of local history in the field of American history, pointing out that much of the early history of the United States was indeed local, William Bradford's History of Plymouth Plantation, was an outstanding example of the genre.

Dr. Howe emphasized that much of local history in the 19th and early 20th century was left to antiquarians and uncritical boosters of the home town. But interest in local history has been a continuous fact of life according to Dr. Howe, even of presidents of the United States. For example, Franklin D. Roosevelt composed a history of his home town, Hyde Park, N.Y. Many of these local historians were amateurs and their history was usually so exclusively localized as to appear to have no meaning for any community but one. Often these histories, in Howe's view dealt with Indians without much sympathy for their point of view and contained tales of the sufferings and achievements of early settlers with chronological narratives of political and governmental milestones. There was usually a recitation of the community's contributions to such national events as wars and economic crises and often a "mug book" celebrating in rather glowing terms the lives of leading citizens. There was little in such a tradition that could clarify the distinctive quality of life in a given community or the contributions of trends at the local level to the nation's history. This all began to change in the 1930s when the respected Harvard historian Arthur Schlesinger, Sr., called for the rise of urban history. Since that time social history has now become a thoroughly respectable academic pursuit and with this development local history began to be studied by academic historians. Among the pioneering studies by academics were, according to Howe, those by such scholars as Charles S. Grant, Sumner Chilton Powell, and Darrett B. Rutman.

Following this introduction, Howe focused on Bethel's own N.T. True, who was born in Pownal but who came here during his student years at Bowdoin College to found a secondary school that later became Gould Academy. True later was principal of Gould's Academy (1848-1861) and it was during this period that he began collecting materials which would make him Bethel's premier early historian. True had begun his career as a medical doctor but his interest in teaching and his wide-ranging interest in everything from mineralogy to scientific agriculture caused him to give up medicine. He spent the rest of his life as head of one school after another, never certain of his economic prospects to support his eight children. His life was a varied one since he founded the first Farmer's Club in Maine (1853) and began writing his column for the Bethel Courier, the town's first newspaper. True represented, in Howe's view, the patriotic tradition of local history in the 19th century, although he was decidedly not a wealthy man as a leading historian of this era such as Francis Parkman was. True was, however, a representative of those professional men who viewed their literary achievements as an avocation and were concerned with preserving the past through meticulous research and transcription along with fair and accurate reporting. He was in touch with some of the literary men of his era, William Willis and Edward Elwell of Portland, Thomas Moulton of Porter, David Noyes of Norway, Israel Washburn, Jr., of Livermore, and George Whitefield Chapman of Gilead. He also was an activist in the field of history, organizing Bethel's first antiquarian supper in 1855, which featured an exhibit of some of the town's outstanding historical treasures. True spoke at various commemorations of several town's celebrations of momentous events in their past, including the marking of Molly Ockett's grade in Andover in 1887. He was a great publicist for Bethel and local history; his articles appeared in various publications. According to Howe, True was particularly farsighted in his emphasis upon compiling the recollections of Bethel's first settlers. But for him, much of this early data would have been lost to future generations. No one can research early Bethel, the Indians of western Maine or Maine agriculture without consulting his work. That, concluded Howe, was the legacy he left future generations and the reason that his work in local history is being commemorated a century after his death in 1887.

During the business portion of the meeting, President Alden Kennett praised the work of the Middle Intervale Meeting House Society in preserving this historic building and thanked that society for allowing the Bethel Historical Society to meet in its building. He announced that the next meeting would be held on Aug. 6 at the Dr. Moses Mason House and would feature a presentation by society member Norm Buttrick of Freeport and Bog Road, Gilead, who will speak and show slides relating to his work on archaeological sites around the state of Maine. The artifact of the month was announced as a letter from Dr. N.T. True to the Gould Academy Executive Committee that underscores his dissatisfaction with conditions at the Academy in the 1850s. This was a gift of Edward (Ned) Hastings. The president announced that the new covered bridge stationery is now available and thanked Helen Morton for preparing the sketch. Trustee Ned Hastings was called upon and reminded members and guests of the programs society member Sally Rollinson had planned for the summer at The Hammons House on Broad Street. Society Director Stanley R. Howe announced that the society had received a grant to undertake an architectural survey of Franklin County and that the work would be beginning this month.

Suzanne Roy of Locke Mills has been named to the dean's list at Trinity College of Vermont at Burlington for the 1987 spring semester. Among the qualifications, a student must be enrolled full-time and achieve a B+ average.

Sebago Long Lake Region Chamber Music Festival begins next Tuesday

The 15th annual Sebago Long Lake Region Chamber Music Festival will begin on Tuesday, July 14, at 8 p.m. in the Bridgton Academy Chapel, North Bridgton. For the fourth consecutive year the Casco Northern Bank will sponsor the evening's program.

The artists will be James and Laurie Kennedy, music directors; Audley Green, Judith and Homer Pence, Stephen and Frieda Manes, Paul Wolfe, and Linda Skernick, a well known harpichordist and a newcomer to the festival.

This group of musicians will begin with the Bach Concerto in C Major for two harpichords and then, to celebrate Bastille Day, will present selections from Francois Couperin, Francis Poulenc, Gabriel Faure, all well known 18th and 19th century French composers.

Future concerts will be given on July 21, July 28, Aug. 4, and Aug. 11. All concerts will be held at the Bridgton Academy Chapel at 8 p.m. The chapel is located on Route 37 just off Route 117 between Bridgton and Harrison. More than 20 well known artists will provide many fine chamber music works covering four centuries of great music.

The festival is grateful for the support of the Maine Arts Commission for their generous grant for the 1987 season. Single admission tickets are $7. Season passes good for all five concerts are available for $30 each. For further information call (207) 647-3793 or (207) 583-2345.

News from Adult & Community Education

The summer session of the SAD #44 Adult and Community Education program begins on Wednesday, July 8, with courses in Sign-painting, Introduction to Computers, Refresher Math with Emphasis on Algebra, CPR, and School Bus Driver Training. According to Director Cathy Newell, the courses in Sign-painting and Computers are filled but room is still available in the other courses. The Adult Learning Center, featuring GED preparation and individualized work in reading, writing and math skills for adults will also be open on Wednesdays at Telstar Regional High School. Adult Guidance Services will be available as well, to assist individuals who are considering college or vocational school, or who need assistance with job-seeking skills such as resume preparation. Anyone interested in any of the summer programs should contact Cathy Newell at the Adult and Community Education office, 824-2780.

NUKE REFERENDUM MEETING

Local leaders of the Maine Nuclear Referendum Committee will hold a public meeting on the nuclear referendum question July 12, at 7 p.m., in the Casco Bank. The question asks if a nuclear plant, such as Maine Yankee, that produces nuclear waste, should be allowed to continue in operation in Maine.

Songo Pond

By ALICE KIMBALL

Saturday afternoon with my daughter from Hanover, we attended the going-away party for the Drs. Wadsworth in Dixfield. Several others from Bethel also attended.

David and Norma Salway were among the crowd that attended the concert at The Ballpark Sunday. After a cookout with the Bernie Gatchells they attended Brandon's Soccer game in Saco.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Kimball, Mrs. Celia Gorman, Mrs. Martha VonZint and myself went to Windham Sunday afternoon for the surprise party honoring Ralston and Mildred (Kimball) Bennett on their 50th wedding anniversary. The affair was held at the home of their daughter, Meredith and Wayne Harmon, on the shore of Lake Sebago Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Leavitt were callers here Sunday evening.

Mrs. Norma Salway was in Boston Tuesday with Mrs. Dottie Adams and Mrs. Darlene Baker of Hanover.

Mrs. Christine Kimball with her daughter, Mrs. Alberta Riddle of Norway, left Monday morning for a two week motor trip to visit relatives in Michigan and Wisconsin.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Poisson of Titusville, Fla., arrived at their summer cottage here Wednesday. They have been visiting relatives and friends in Berlin, N.H., the past few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil and Ruth Hill of Dallas, Texas, are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Nancy Davis and family. The Davises met them at the Portland Jetport Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Salway spent the Fourth with his brother and family on Lacombe, N.H.

Norma and I were at The Cape in Otisfield Friday helping with the weekend "change-overs."

John and Sherry Hindman were guests of his grandmother, Mrs. Elmira Doyen Friday night.

Gardening is good for the waistline—and also for the appetite.

CUMMINGS REUNION

The 19th annual Cummings reunion was held July 5 at the home of Rowena and Herbert Dunham, Rowe Hill, Greenwood. A hot, sunny day was enjoyed by the 100 people in attendance. Everyone enjoyed the potluck dinner, horseshoes, baseball, and mountain climbing was done plus a lot of visiting. Cliff Sowersby was the oldest at 69 years, and Matthew Mosley was the youngest at three months.

Next year the reunion will be held at Roenell Cummings' in West Paris.

Norme and Olga Gellatly have been entertaining get relatives Herbert Modig, his son, Gorma, and daughter-in-law, Sinikka, from Kihna, Finland. They also visited Alma Dixon of Norway.

Maurice and Aili Benson have been entertaining her cousins Veikko and Tyne Piikkariainen from Oulu, Finland, and her brother, Veikko McKen, from Wallingford, Conn. They entertained at a get acquainted supper on Saturday. Thirty-six relatives were present. They also visited with the Korhonen families of Paris Hill.

Clara Gerson of Mountain View Apartments is spending two weeks with relatives in Pennsylvania.

Virginia Aridas of Medford, L.I., New York, returned home on Tuesday after spending the weekend with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Inman. Vicky Sanborn, North Conway, N. H. was here on Monday for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Proctor were in Ellsworth several days last week where they attended the Rural Letter Carriers Convention.

Vernie Inman celebrated his 6th birthday with a belated birthday party on Sunday at Grampa and Nana Inman's camp in Greenwood. Those present were Alan, Pam, Alan, Jr. and Michelle Waterhouse, Norway; Mary Beane, Joy, Janna, and Joshua of Oxford; Jessica Beane, Oxford; Linda Lawton of East Granby, Conn.; Byron and Mary Inman, South Paris; Virginia Aridas, Medford, N.Y.; Marshall and Susan Inman, Todd and Tony; Bill, Sally and Daniel Berry, Vernon; and Miriam Inman, Walter, Kim and Walter Jr. After he opened his gifts, a school bus cake, ice cream and punch were served.

Health Center's Mollycoddle Day activities

The time of year has come again when floats will be cruising down Main Street on Mollycoddle Day and the Bethel Area Health Center will, once again, enter a float. It's great to see so many participants in the parade.

The Bethel Area Health Center also has once again challenged the BEARS and Tri-Town Rescue to a "nurses race" down Broad Street and they have accepted. A set of rules have been sent to all participating organizations so the race is all set to go on July 18.

This the health center will hold their fifth annual frog jumping contest so dads and moms don't forget to go frog hunting on Friday before Mollycoddle and enter your child in the contest. Songo Pond is the favorite hunting ground big healthy frogs.

"Betsy Buckle" will be manning a booth which is sponsored by the health center. The new seat belt law will be effective in September so the health center feels that their car seat loan program should be highly publicized as well as the Seat Belt Law itself. All children 12 years old and under must "buckle up" in the state of Maine.

Elderhostel at Gould

Nearly 40 Elderhostelers will arrive on the Gould Academy campus on July 19 to begin a week of study and exploration of the Bethel area. Three courses will be offered to the participants. These will include: A Field History of the Androscoggin Valley with Paul McGuire as instructor, Drawing and Sketching, taught by Letty Berkovich, and Writing as Discovery, instructed by Gould Academy's Will Graham.

Elderhostel is an educational program for older adults who want to expand their horizons and to develop new interests and enthusiasms.

Friday Flicks at the Bethel Library

Friday Flicks is a movie program for children at the Bethel Library. Every "show" begins at 7 p.m., and last approximately 45 minutes. Parents are welcome, too; in fact, if children are under school age the library would appreciate that a parent, babysitter, or other adult accompany them. Come and enjoy movies on the big screen!

The remainder of this summer's Friday Flick schedule is as follows:

July 10: Beaver Valley; Sneetches; Pigs!

July 17: Madeline; Caterpillar; Farm Animals in Rhyme.

July 24: Cockade; Changes, Changes; Chick, Chick, Chick.

July 31: Rosie; Walk; Wilbur's Story; The Strange Story of the Frog who Became a Prince.

Aug. 7: Where the Wild Things Are; Tehou, Tehou; Oh Brother, My Brother.

Aug. 14: Strega Nona; Clay; The Ugly Duckling.

Aug. 21: Seadream; Magic Balloons; One Kitten for Kim.

Flag burning ceremony held July 4 at Jackson-Silver Post

On Saturday, July 4, members of the Jackson-Silver Post #68, Locke Mills, and Auxiliary joined together with members and auxiliaries of two other posts for a formal flag burning service in front of the post home on the Gore Road.

Those participating in the ceremony from other posts were: Tom Warner, District Sgt.-at-Arms, of Post #24, Rumford, along with his wife, Wilma Warner, who is state historian of the American Legion Auxiliary of the same post. Members of Post #2520 VFW, Berlin, N.H., were Paul St. Onge, post sgt.-at-arms, along with his wife, Thelma, and Oscar Provencher and wife, Dora, member of the post auxiliary. Other guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. George Morris of Marlboro, N.H., sister of the post commander, Herbert Lyon.

Due to the rain the ceremony was held inside the building. Old flags that were faded, torn, or frayed, and therefore no longer serviceable are thus retired to be replaced by new flags of the same size and kind. Donations of flags to be burned were from the post offices of Locke Mills and Mexico, along with many others donated by various individuals, plus the worn and faded flags that marked the graves of veterans.

This ceremony was to indicate that the intrinsic value of each flag, be it trifling or great, was minimized by its real significant value, which is beyond price as the precious symbol of all veterans of the armed services of the United States who worked for, lived for, and died for the cause that the people of this country might have and cherish a free nation of free men (and women), devoted to the ideals and practice of justice, freedom and democracy.

Members of the Jackson-Silver Post #68 would like to express its appreciation to each one who attended and participated in this ceremony.

please call the chamber office, and we'll get you a packet of information.

Welcome to new member Stephen Rhodes of Shearwater Design.

Keep an eye out for a new column starting with the July 22 edition of The Citizen titled "Focus on Chamber Members," highlighting a different member each week. This is an effort of the Community Relations Committee members: Shirley Powell, Ernestine Riley, Cathy Newell, Irene Mills and Ed Hildebeck.

The chamber would like to invite all to attend the monthly meeting of the board of directors. The next one will be held Thursday, July 9, at 7:30 a.m. at the Casco Bank, Main St., Bethel.

CRESCENT PARK SCHOOL student Jason Fraser stands proudly beside some of the 53 pages of numbers he has written out this year. He plans to continue writing numbers as long as he is able to do so. (Photo by Arla Patch)

'Numbers boy' at CPS

Jason Fraser, who just completed fourth grade in Mrs. Corduan's class at Crescent Park School, started writing numbers on Feb. 5, 1987. Starting with one, two, three, four, five, etc. he wrote numbers consecutively until he began filling several notebook pages.

At the time of the accompanying photograph, on the last week of school, Jason had filled 53 pages of notebook paper and reached the number 11,945. He said he would find a quiet place at night and start writing, sometimes for one and half hours at a time, or as many as 600 numbers. He usually wrote daily and his longest break away from writing was one to two weeks. Jason keeps his numbers in a notebook and plans to continue writing "until I can't see or till I'm really old and can't do it any more or lose a hand."

Jason's commitment to his project of number writing rubbed off on several of his classmates. One classmate, Joel Riley, had reached 7900 at the time of the photograph.

Tri-Town Rescue 'Orientation to NTL' for restaurant/retail employees

Tri-Town's Auxiliary is busy with plans for the annual Yard Sale, which will be held in our barn parking lot at Trap Corner, this year. The dates are Saturday and Sunday, July 11 and 12, with rain-date the following weekend. If you have anything that you'd like to donate to the cause, give Dorene Benson (674-2346) or Ruth Scribner (388-2511) a call, and they will arrange for pick-up, or arrange to be around when you drop the stuff off. And by the way, don't forget to stop by on the 11th or 12th to check out all the bargains.

SAR will be meeting at the barn on July 9 for training, with the topic being map and compass. All members are urged to attend.

Tri-Town's board of directors meets July 15 at 9 a.m. at Trap Corner. A reminder, these meetings are open meetings and can be attended by anyone who is interested.

Janet Bennett, our co-ordinator of in-service dispatchers has asked me to remind everyone that she still needs people to be in-service dispatchers. She says that if you just realized how easy the job is, you would be glad to help out. By the way, the job is very important to the smooth operation of the service. If you have a phone and would like to help, give Janet a call at 674-2130.

Chief Jane is looking for volunteers to participate in the annual bed race that will be held in Bethel on July 18. She is threatening to appoint, but I have a feeling that it won't be necessary, there must be someone who wants to have fun, and I hear that the event is a ball.

Reminder to residents of Woodstock & Greenwood

This is a reminder to the residents of Woodstock and Greenwood that there will be a meeting to organize a community lakes association on Saturday, July 11, at 10 a.m. at the Woodstock Town House on Main Street in Bryant Pond. All are welcome!

Notes from the Woodstock Historical Society

Here is an account of entering a manor—

There was a graveled courtyard opposite the southward of the house. Geraniums by the foot of the wall, two old climbing vines, a scatter of white doves on the roof; all the shutters were in use, the place asleep. But the main door, with a heraldic stone shield above—was lodged open. There was no knocker, no sign of a bell. Inside, he saw a stone flagged hall, an oak table beside an ancient wooden staircase with worn and warped medieval-looking banisters that led upward. In the living room, a very handsome piece of dense but airy space, were antique carved furniture, bowls of flowers, a group of armchairs, two sofas, and old pink and red carpets.

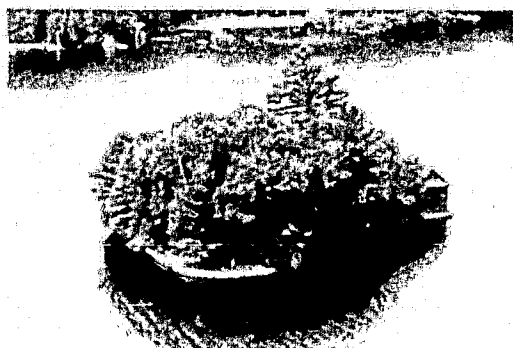

Recent donations have come from Douglas Thompson, Harris Hathaway, Russell Yates and Peggy Blake.

The next society meeting will be on Finland and America's Finnish heritage, presented by a group headed by Taisto Koskela.

Larry Billings has put a copy of his favorite United States history in the museum archives.

Patty Whitman has given an old flag to the society from the school district. The school has made some donations to the society.

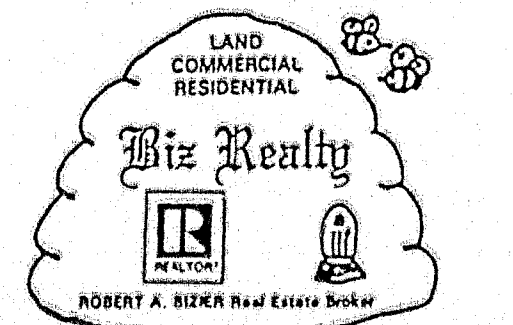

employees to the session, for which there is no charge, are asked to call the Adult Education office, 824-2780, by Thursday, July 9, with the number of employees who will be attending.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Wardwell

WARDWELL - FULLER

Miss Stephanie Fuller and Eric Wardwell were married May 16 in an evening ceremony at the Locke Mills Union Church. Pastor Silver Leamon officiated. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Fuller of Locke Mills. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wardwell of Hampton Beach, N.H.

The bride escorted to the altar by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white tulle with layers of lace ruffles cascading down the back in a chapel-length train. She carried a bouquet of white lilies.

Miss Dierdre Cox of Bridgton was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Mary Poland of Biddeford and Miss Shannon Fuller, sister of the bride. Miss Nicole Getz of Dresden, cousin of the bride, was the flower girl.

Billy McDougal of Andover, friend of the bridegroom, was the best man. Ushers were Garth Conrad of Andover and Robbie Dixon of Philadelphia, Pa., friends of the bridegroom.

Following the wedding, a reception

CARD OF THANKS

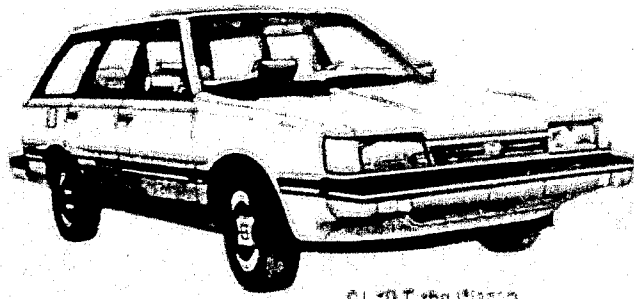

I would like to thank all of my friends and neighbors for the prayers, cards, flowers and visits during my recent illness. We are all busy and have our own lives to lead so I really appreciate all of the comfort and support extended to me and my family. Also I would like to thank the doctors and nurses of Stephens Memorial Hospital for the excellent care during my recent stay.

The North Pond Sailing Association held its first race of the season on North Pond on Sunday, July 5. Due to the early deadline for this paper the results will be printed next week. The schedule for July is as follows: July 12, North Pond at 1 p.m.; Saturday, July 18, annual pot luck supper for the members and families of the association at Blaine and Margaret Mills at 6 p.m.; Sunday, July 19, at North Pond at 1 p.m.; and Sunday, July 26, at North Pond at 1 p.m.

The committee for the Craft Fair of the Greenwood Historical Society will meet at Barbara Dunham's on Monday, July 13, at 7 p.m.

The Greenwood Historical Society will hold a Craft Fair and Flea Market on Aug. 8 at the Greenwood Historical Society Building from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Tables will be available. Call 875-3665, Barbara Dunham; 875-2442, Vera Cross; 875-2102, Denise Swan.

Correction: I do not dispatch Sunday after 6 a.m. The 6 a.m.-6 p.m. schedule is fully filled right now by Dot Betts. And speaking of dispatching: Tri-Town really is in desperate need of more inservice dispatchers. We would like to have enough so no one would have to take more than one 12 hour shift a week and also have a couple who could just fill in occasionally. Right now some of us are having to take two or three shifts a week. It really is not difficult. The ambulance personnel are a delight and do everything they can to make it very easy for the dispatchers. So if you have a telephone and are willing to stay home for just one 12 hour period during the week please consider giving us a try.

On Sunday July 12 Mr. and Mrs. Dobeldale missionaries from South America will be guest speakers at the Locke Mills Union Church.

The Youth Group will be meeting every other week from 7-8 p.m., Thursdays, July 2, 16, and 30 this month.

The Ladies Circle will be meeting Wednesday, July 15, at 1:30 p.m. at the Sunday School room. They will be discussing their sale which will be on Friday, July 24, from 11 am to 2:30 pm. Luncheon will be served from 11 to 1 and will feature chop suey, baked beans, brown bread, rolls, salads, sandwiches, beverages and pies. The tables will feature food, cookie masks, white elephant, fanny work and grabs.

HEDLEY R. WHEELER

Hedley R. Wheeler of Livermore Falls died Friday, July 3, 1987, at his home following an illness of one and one-half years.

Born in Chesterville June 7, 1910, he was the son of John R. and Ida Mae Wheeler. He was educated in the Chesterville school system and graduated from Gould Academy in 1928. He married Della A. Pettigall of Livermore Falls on Dec. 17, 1933, at Gorham, N.H. He had been employed by International Paper at the Otis Mill as an electrician, retiring in 1970 after 42 years of service. He also worked for Paul Perrier Oil Burner Service and was an independent electrician in the Livermore Falls area. In the 1930s he had also worked for a time at the Greenleaf Funeral Home in Bethel. He was a member of the IOOF and for many years was their treasurer. He was affiliated with the Moose Hill Baptist Church and he enjoyed snowmobiling and all-terrain vehicles.

He is survived by his wife of Livermore Falls; one son, William R. of Livermore Falls; one daughter, Mrs. Dennis V. Johnson of Livermore Falls; one brother, Cecil L. Wheeler of Chesterville; three grandchildren; five step-grandchildren; and nine step great-grandchildren. He was predeceased by a sister, Alta Mastine, who died in 1985.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon from the Finley Funeral Home, Livermore Falls.

FANNIE VATCHER

Mrs. Fannie Vatcher, 96, a long-time resident of Saugus, Mass., died Thursday, June 25, 1987, at the Liberty Pavilion Nursing Home, Danvers, Mass., after a lengthy illness. She was the wife of the late Benjamin Vatcher.

Born in Lynn, Mass., Mrs. Vatcher was the daughter of Frank and Florence (Webster) Vatcher. She leaves three sons, Everett of Lynchburg, Va., Roger Vatcher of East Kingston, N.H., and Joseph Vatcher of North Paris; two daughters, Ruth Soney of Gloucester, Mass., and Fannie White of Swampscott, Mass.; two sisters, Flora Gezal of Lynn, Mass., and Grace Lane of Gloucester, Mass.; and 20 grandchildren.

She was also the mother of the late Ina Vatcher (Sheppard), and Ralph, James, William, Kenneth, and Harold Vatcher. Services were held Monday, June 22, at the Bishop-Porella Funeral Home, Saugus, Mass. Burial was at Riverside Cemetery.

MARRIED

In Locke Mills, May 18, by Pastor Silver Leamon, Miss Stephanie Fuller and Eric Wardwell.

DIED

In Livermore Falls, July 3, Hedley R. Wheeler, formerly of Bethel, aged 77 years.

In Danvers, Mass., June 25, Mrs. Fannie Vatcher of Saugus, Mass., frequent visitor in North Paris, aged 96 years.

New apprentice at Frieden Dorf Pottery

Fay Corrin, at the Frieden Dorf Pottery shop in Bryant Pond, welcomes the arrival of Michelle McCongale, a new apprentice who has arrived for the summer. Michelle, a Colorado native, is a junior at Bates College. Her first experience with ceramics was in high school. Incorporating her love of the southwest and Indian cultures with pottery, she has taught several Indian pottery workshops at the Crow Canyon School for archaeology. These workshops focused the development of a pot; digging the clay from the ground, coil building the clay into a pot, and pit firing the finished product.

Michelle is using her time this summer at Frieden Dorf to learn more about the production and commercial aspects of the pottery. She feels her time as an apprentice is a valuable learning experience—one that will increase her knowledge in the business of pottery. Michelle says, "It is a wonderful chance for me to take a serious look at my ability and to understand my potential, while having the opportunity to work with an experienced and creative potter." Michelle adds that by the end of the summer she hopes to establish some long-term goals within the ceramic field.

Frieden Dorf Pottery is in its sixth year as a studio and shop in the village of Bryant Pond. Open 10 to 5 daily, it features not only the studio pottery, but also the work of many other artisans. Michelle and Fay invite folks to stop by and watch them making pottery.

Four new programs underway at NTL

About 155 NTL participants and staff members arrived in Bethel last weekend for four new programs that started on Sunday and Monday. They joined another group already here, now completing the second week of their own workshop. Crescent Park School is providing meeting spaces for two of these new programs, and the others are using the Bethel Inn Conference Center and NTL's own facilities.

More than 100 of these NTL visitors are either renting houses or apartments in the Bethel area, or living this week in local inns, motels, or bed-and-breakfast places.

The Sunrise Seminars for this week, open to interested persons in the Bethel community at no charge, cover a new series of topics. These 45-minute presentations by staff members start at 7:30 a.m. in the Maine Room, behind the NTL Conference House at the top of Broad Street. With the enlarged group that arrived last weekend, the changing topics have included a talk by John Weir on Tuesday, and by both John and Joyce Weir on Wednesday.

The seminars for the remainder of this week are as follows: Thursday, July 9, Bailey Jackson on "Multicultural Organization Development"; Friday, July 10, a panel discussion of "The AIDS Crisis and How It Affects You"; and Saturday, July 11, Sandra Polzer on "Health: What Is It, and What For?"

Special Interest Groups, usually held in the afternoon, are also open to persons from the Bethel area. On Tuesday, Bailey Jackson was the moderator for a discussion of Racial Minorities, and today (Wednesday) Howard Williams will be able to answer questions that people may have about further NTL programs.

The topics for each week's Sunrise Seminars and Special Interest Groups are posted regularly in a number of locations around Bethel and Locke Mills. All friends from the Bethel area who are interested are invited to attend.

THE NEW RUNWAY at Col. Dyke Field has been completed by the Maine National Guard's 133rd Engineer Battalion. (The above view is looking straight down the runway.) Town officials presented a plaque to the unit in appreciation for the work, which was valued at $638,000. Town officials say the new 3,150-foot runway must still be paved before it can be used. A proposal by the town for paving is still in the hands of the Federal Aviation Administration. That job is expected to cost over $500,000, which would be mostly paid for by the federal government, if approved by the FAA. Town officials are hoping the work can be done this fall.

Woodstock town meeting rescheduled to July 21

At Tuesday's meeting at the Woodstock Board of Selectmen, it was clear the town had many issues to decide in the near future. Many will be discussed at a special town meeting now set for July 21. (This was changed from July 14.)

One issue is the roadside spring. Town Manager Kathleen Mersereau said, regarding that, "We've got to give the townspeople all the information, all the options, so they can make an intelligent decision." She said the town counsel, Doug Myers, is going to go over the deed to the property and also consider the liabilities that would be the town's responsibility and give the selectmen his opinion. They, in turn, would probably make a recommendation to the voters.

Also, and for a wildlife life preserve has been offered to the town on North Pond off Rte. 26 by Jeffrey Glover, of Allentown, Pa. Regarding this, Mrs. Mersereau commented, "We'd probably keep it in its natural state and the Conservation Commission could oversee it."
